Implementation Timeline for The Open Source Teaching Project

Phase 1: Fall 2007, Commencement of Strategic Planning (gratis, no charge)

Phase 2: Summer / Fall 2008, Commencement of Teaching Fellowships.

Phase 3: Summer / Fall 2009, Strategic launch and deliverable for students, including the option to continue teaching fellowships and other future offerings like free, on-demand ACT / SAT Prep and innovative professional development.

Please Review Our Essential Reading and PowerPoint Introduction.

Phase 1 (Fall 2007/ Spring 2008): Over the span of 12 months, The Open Source Teaching Project will engage in three half-day planning meetings, virtual in scope, with each partnering city. Each meeting will include specific and measurable project plan deliverables for each stakeholder. The first six months of strategic planning will be dedicated solely towards developing a shared understanding between The Open Source Teaching Project and each city partner regarding alignment of the city's strategic goals and the innovative deliverables of The Open Source Teaching Project. The remaining six months of project planning will include a specifically customized project plan for teaching fellowship deliverables immersed in the demands of a knowledge economy.

All project planning is provided gratis. The following academic year will result in the implementation of this customized project plan as outlined at the following link.
